Figure 3: Error distribution for EGS prediction on real reads. Relative errors are approximately normally distributed (a) (Shapiro-Wilks test: P=0.67), and are independent of genome size (b). The red circles in (b) represent two data sets suffering from strong experimental biases (see main text).